Allied Leaders Rule Out All Political Or Foreign Policy Talk

No Activity Occurs In Area Where Truce Is Being Discussed

By DON DIXON

(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

EIGHTH U. S. ARMY HQ., Korea, July 10.—A complete though unofficial cease-fire was in effect today on the extreme western flank of the Korean battlefield where Allied and Communist military commanders are talking peace.

But elsewhere the fighting continued on the ground and in the air.

Sharpest action of the day occurred on the east central front when for the second day in a row Allied units attempted to take a Communist position about 12 miles northeast of Yangu.

Attack Is Launched

The attack was launched by Allied troops manning an outpost on the west flank of the enemy position. Intense fire from an estimated enemy regiment forced the Allies to withdraw.

Reinforced, the Allied unit attacked again only to be forced back a second time after registering a minor gain.

Except for two sightings of enemy forces east of Kaesong, there was no action in the Kaesong parley zone. A platoon of engineers, sent out to clear the road of mines up to a point within five miles of Kaesong, encountered an enemy unit but there was no hostile contact between the two forces.

An Allied force directly east of Yangu captured a Communist position in the face of heavy mortar and artillery fire.

BUTLER, Pa., July 10.—(INS)—Three Pennsylvania victims of a Route 8 automobile collision that caused the death of a fourth man began the long road to recovery today.

They are William Bader, Johnstown; Gus Fraaf, McKeesport, and Charles Lepich, Boston.

The dead man was Julius G. McKee, 55, Greenock.

They were involved in a head-on collision two miles below Baderstown, Pa., yesterday. Police said McKee's car, which was heading south, collided with Bader's auto after first sideswiping another car.

Bader, who suffered shock, a possible concussion, fractures of the knee and leg and many cuts, was in critical condition. Fraaf and Lepich, although suffering broken bones, were in less serious condition.

Last evening's shower, which was noted in some localities, was purely local. It rained fairly hard over on the west side, but East Side residents stated that only a few scattered drops were noticed there.

New York Sees Thousands Of Shriners March

NEW YORK, July 10.—(INS)—The Arabic-clad Shriners went on the march today down New York's famed Fifth avenue.

Sixteen thousand frolicsome members of the ancient order, representing all 48 states, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii, strode down the thoroughfare where an "even bigger and noisier" parade will be staged Thursday.

Leading the spectacle in hazy, humid weather were 50 New York mounted police and four Baltimore motorcycle police—the latter wearing kelly green tunics, yellow trousers with cardinal red stripes, white Sam Brown belts and glistening gold buttons and insignia.

Some 2,000 police were posted to maintain lines, direct traffic and ease the faint and foot-sore to the curb. Notables joined nobles in the reviewing stand at 64th street.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose fez was marked Nile Temple, Seattle, Wash., had been invited to "take the parade," as they say in his profession, but couldn't make it.

However, he promised Nile's Recorder Frank T. Ostrander and illustrious Potentate H. Dan Bracken, Jr. He would "move heaven and earth" to be in the reviewing stand for the second parade Thursday night.

In order to pass inspection, bicycles must be equipped with a horn, light and tail reflectors.

Swarm Of Bees On Fire Hydrant

CHICAGO, July 10.—(INS)—A swarm of bees settled on a Chicago fire hydrant last night and had no trouble maintaining its position. In rapid succession, firemen, policemen and city water officials came out to investigate.

All decided they probably would not be using that hydrant for a while anyway.

A few rock-throwing kids suffered some bee stings in retaliation and after everyone decided "discretion was the better part of valor."

U. N. Secretary Optimistic Or Truce Prospect

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., July 10.—U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie resumed his interrupted vacation in his native Norway today, convinced that Gen. Ridgway will succeed in establishing a durable truce on U. N. terms in Korea.

Lie flew back to the United States from Norway when Russia's Jacob Malik proposed a cease-fire in Korea.

Thinks Parley In Earnest

Before leaving New York by air for Oslo last night, Lie conferred with top advisors on current cease-fire talks at Kaesong and concurred in the opinion of far east experts that Mao Tse-tung "means business" as far as ending the shooting war is concerned.

28th Division Is Alerted To Go To Europe

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The Army announced today that the 28th and 43rd National Guard Divisions have been definitely alerted for movement to General Eisenhower's command in Europe this fall.

The 28th, now training at Camp Atterbury, Ind., is composed of guardsmen from Pennsylvania. The 43rd Division, now at Camp Pickett, Va., is made up of men from Vermont, Connecticut, and Rhode Island.

The two big units, each consisting of more than 18,000 men including draftees added since they went into training last September, will complete the U. S. program for stationing six fighting divisions in Germany by the end of the year.

Action Taken Reluctantly

There were two divisions in Germany at the start of the program. The Fourth Infantry has since been sent over, and the Second Armored is in process of movement to Europe.

The Army said the decision to send the guard divisions to Europe was taken reluctantly because many members may be entitled to release within a few months.

However, the Army is working out a replacement program which may transform the guard units into regular Army divisions.

The 28th has been in training since last September, and is commanded by Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler. The 43rd also went into training September 5, and is commanded by Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer.

Woman Of 84 Years Of Age Is Married To Man 37 Years Old

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(INS)—Mrs. Katherine Koch, 84, was busy putting her house in order today so that she can go on a honeymoon with her 37-year-old bridegroom.

Mrs. Koch, widow of a Philadelphia banker, was married yesterday to Sidney Koch, a midtown jeweler, climaxing what they called a 12-year courtship.

But they didn't go on a honeymoon—right away, that is.

First, she said, the bridegroom's business needs his presence right now. Secondly, she added, she wants to rearrange and redecorate her home.

Everything will take about two months, she said, and then her groom will come to live with her and they will have a "real honeymoon."

Mrs. Koch was left an estate of $74,194 by her late husband, but by the time she received it, it had shrunk to $50,356.

"Our marriage is not a matter of money," she explained. "He—referring to her new husband—makes more in a week than I get in a month. It's just that we get along well together."

Koch, who can't see where the 37-year difference in their ages means anything, said:

"I don't believe that age and beauty is any criterion. She's very lovable. I met her, and then our friendship just blossomed into love."

Man 37, Weds Woman 84

PHILADELPHIA, PENNA.—37-year old Sidney Koch, a jeweler, shakes hands with the Rev. ### To Ask Cancellation Of Bail For Indicted Reds

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 10.—A United States prosecutor will move today to cancel the bail of 15 Communists "second-string" leaders indicted on a charge of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government.

United States Attorney Irving Saypol revealed that his staff has been working for two days on the motion for revocation of the $186,000 in bail put up by the leftist civil rights congress.

Roy M. Cohn, Saypol's confidential assistant, said that if the motion is turned down he will move to increase the bail substantially. Court circles said the motion for the 15, held since their arrests on June 29, may ask for a total of $1,500,000.

During argument over the sentencing of two trustees of the civil rights congress for contempt of court last night Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan declared, "I think it's (Continued on Page Two)

Police Locate Girl Mother Of Abandoned Baby

Following an investigation Monday morning and early Monday afternoon, City Detectives Thomas Boyle and George Sigler, and Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna, secured a confession from a 19-year-old girl that she was the mother of the child found abandoned in the rear of 226 Euclid avenue, Sunday evening.

She told the officers that the baby had been born last Thursday, and had been wrapped in a towel and concealed in the cellar of her home until Saturday morning, when she wrapped it in newspapers and placed in the spot where it was found Sunday evening. Miraculously the baby did not die, and today was reported as getting along very nicely at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

An information charging the girl with abandoning an infant child was placed against her before Alderman James C. Brier, by Chief Hanna, and the girl pleaded guilty to the charge. She was held for court in the sum of $400 cash bail.

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—(INS)—After being sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 for income tax evasion, gambler Mickey Cohen stands handcuffed awaiting his removal from Federal court here. Cohen's attorneys announced they would file an appeal of the conviction.

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—(INS)—Gangster Mickey Cohen, once the overlord of Southern California gambling, languished in jail today with no prospect of getting out in the near future.

He is under sentence of five years in a federal prison and the only hope he has of escaping an income tax evasion rap lies in two newly-hired lawyers.

FOLLANSBEE, W. Va., July 10.—(INS)—A dynamite explosion wrecked Ted Leon's cigar store in Follansbee early today.

The sheriff added no one was injured in the blast.

Kills Second Of Gang
Blanchart fell back and fired two more shots, killing Belcastro. A third bandit was routed by Blanchart's smoking gun and escaped in a waiting car.

The three men—each wearing masks and butcher smocks—caught Blanchart alone as he was guarding the Brink's truck. Two other guards had gone upstairs to pick up the day's receipts from the dairy firm—estimated at $50,000.

Both Piazzi and Belcastro were ex-convicts and police said they had been wanted for a long series of robberies.

His thwarting of the holdup qualifies Blanchart for a $2,000 reward under terms of a standing company offer of $1,000 for every bandit killed by a Brink's employee.

Some Progress Is Reported At Two Meetings

Complete Halt To Shooting War In Korea Parley Aim

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

(Far Eastern Director, U. N. S.)

UN TRUCE CAMP NEAR KAESONG, July 10.—United Nations and Communist negotiators opened their fateful Korean truce talks today and were reported to have "made progress" in their first two meetings at which the Allies ruled out all political or foreign policy talk.

Vice Admiral Charles Turner Joy, head of the five-man UN delegation, told five Red generals at the outset of the Kaesong talks that there would be no questions discussed except those relating to an iron-clad armistice that must be settled before fighting stops.

Admiral Joy emphasized the Allies' good faith in this objective—a full, unbreakable armistice and then a complete halt to the shooting war in Korea.

Stiffly Formal Sessions
In two stiffly formal sessions during the first day of the history-making talks, both sides presented the topics the proposed for discussion in the effort to restore peace to Korea.

This was announced late Tuesday night in an official communique which said the Kaesong conference will be reconvened at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning (8 p.m. Tuesday EDT).

House Taking Further Votes On Controls Bill

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The House continues voting today on its defense controls bill under the veiled threat of a second labor boycott of the mobilization program.

The united labor policy committee and Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson joined Monday night in a bitter denunciation of the Senate-passed bill and pending House proposal.

Wilson, in a direct appeal to housewives, declared that the cost of living would increase considerably if the Senate-House bills become law. He added:

"I cannot work effectively with the handcuffs the pressure groups are forging for me now."

In the most caustic speech he has made, Wilson said that "if Congress passes disabling legislation—and I mean just that, disabling legislation—housewives should keep a record of prices now and a year hence. He added:

"If you do, so I am convinced that you will be in for a very unpleasant shock."

The lady said, "It's certainly no mirage, so what shall we do?" said I in my glee, and she said "you'll clean the garage." Now other people can take a ride, or picnic down in a dell, or take a swim in a limpid pool or go to a ball game and yell. ## Some Progress Is Reported At Two Meetings lied "Forward Base Camp," the official announcement stated:

"The first meeting in the armistice negotiations was held at 11 a.m. as scheduled, in an open and formal atmosphere at Kaesong today.

Second Meeting Set

"The second meeting of the negotiating parties will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, July 11th."

Returning to the Allied truce camp 15 miles below Kaesong, the UN delegates gave officials what the latter termed the impression they believed "they made progress toward an agenda to discuss the armistice."

This was the word passed on to some 40 correspondents at a news briefing aboard a train at Munsan where the UN "armistice base" is situated.

No indication was forthcoming up to a late hour Tuesday night as to the subjects the five Communist delegates proposed for discussion.

The Pyongyang radio however quoted the official Red North Korean News Agency as distributing a "commentary" on the armistice talks in which the demand was renewed for the "evacuation of foreign troops from Korea."

"Settled by Koreans"

Asserting that the Korean problem should be settled by the Koreans, the "commentary" added that the "Korean people will muster their full strength to deal a final blow to the United States if America utilizes the truce talks to engineer a new aggressive plot."

Adm. Joy launched the momentous armistice parley with a firmly worded opening address, laying down the general terms under which the Allies were willing to call a halt to the Korean struggle.

He said the fighting will end only when a full truce is negotiated and an armistice commission created with powers to "function."

Obviating any impression that the UN was suing for peace, Adm. Joy took the initiative at the outset of the conference and the delegates then held their first two sessions Tuesday.

First Session 2½ Hours

The opening day's second session, which last two and a half hours, was adjourned at 6:30 p.m. (4:30 a.m. EDT).

Adm. Joy and his four fellow-delegates, along with their official aides, returned in five helicopters from Kaesong to a UN "truce camp" 15 miles to the southeast. They landed in a drizzle at 6:55 p.m. (4:55 a.m. EDT).

There was no immediate communication or other official word as to the actual progress of the negotiations.

A briefing officer who sat in on the Kaesong sessions was scheduled later to hold a news conference with some 40 reporters at the armistice base.

He promised to give "all information not considered confidential or vital to the success of the negotiation."

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had left the truce camp at Munsan early Tuesday afternoon after giving his delegation a sendoff as it left for Kaesong in the morning.

Confers with Rhee

The UN supreme commander flew 19 miles southeast to an airfield near Seoul where he conferred with South Korean President Syngman Rhee, U.S. Ambassador John J. Muccio, and Lt. Gen. John B. Coulter, U.S. Eighth Army deputy commander.

The airfield consultation was declared officially to have been held "on purely military matters" which might include questions concerning the cease-fire parley.

Pilots of the five American "covert" which took the UN delegation to and from Kaesong, disclosed they had landed in a clearing near the conference house and that their machines were surrounded by Red armed guards through the day.

The day's second session began after a three and a half hour recess following the first meeting which Adm. Joy called to order with a solemn pledge of good faith and a call for similar sincerity on the part of the Red delegation.

With equal emphasis, the admiral ruled out all discussion of political and economic matters or any military problems not affecting Korea from the conference which he dramatically termed "of great importance to the peoples of the entire world."

TO ASK CANCELLATION OF BAIL FOR INDICTED REDS

a trifling thing for these men to guarantee bond, and when it is forfeited, to come in and refuse to answer the question of the court."

To Ask Cancellation

It was then that Saypol revealed his intentions of asking for bail cancellation.

Sentenced to six months in jail each for contempt of court were Daniel Hammel, mystery story writer and author of "The Thin Man," and W. Alphaeus Hunton.

They refused to answer questions in Judge Ryan's inquiry into the flight of four of the nation's 11 convicted top Communists. The four—Gus Hall, Henry Winston, Robert H. Thompson and Gil Green—went underground when their seven co-defendants surrendered July 2.

The civil rights congress, which is on the attorney general's subversive list, forfeited bail of $80,000 as a result.

Both men took their sentences without emotion and were taken by van last night to the federal house of detention. Their sentences were double that of Frederick Vanderbilt Field, millionaire secretary of the bail fund who got 90 days for contempt.

Field, who spent the week-end in a cell, was released yesterday in $10,000 bail provided by his wife, pending an appeal. Judge Ryan had ruled out bail funds of the civil rights congress for his release.

Hammel refused to tell the court whether he knew the four top Communist fugitives or to say whether he had a hand in their flight. He took refuge in two stock replies: "I respectfully decline to answer" and "I decline to answer because it might tend to incriminate me."

Two Youths Face Possible Death Penalty For Rape

ARLINGTON, Va., July 10.—(INS)—A blue ribbon grand jury today returned three indictments, each carrying a possible death penalty, against two youths accused of kidnaping and raping a naval officer's bride on July 25.

Indicted were John R. Poik, 19, and William R. Payne, 24, who were arrested after Mrs. James Hotchkiss, 19, was taken from her apartment bedroom by two armed men and assaulted several times before she was released.

Poik and Payne were indicted for kidnaping with intent to extort money, abduction with intent to defile, and breaking and entering in the night-time.

A regular Fairfax County, Va., grand jury indicted the pair yesterday for rape, which also carries a maximum death penalty.

Judge William D. Medive ruled that the two youths will be tried first in Fairfax County on the rape indictment. They are expected to go on trial next month, probably August 20.

Meat Ration In Great Britain To Be Increased

LONDON, July 10. — (INS)—Food Minister Maurice Webb announced today that Great Britain's present meat ration of about three ounces weekly per person will be increased progressively starting July 22 and will be at least doubled by the end of August.

Webb said the ration will be upped from 11½ cents worth to 14½ cents weekly starting August 5 and 21 cents beginning August 19, but prices of meat will be increased an average of 3½ cents a pound effective August 22.

Former Prime Minister Churchill branded the move a "pre-election maneuver" by the Labor government.

ment. Included in the bill also are funds for the commerce and justice departments, and for the federal judiciary.

Chief interest centered in the action taken on the outlay for the state department because of threats to (1) eliminate Acheson's salary; (2) severely curtail departmental appropriations.

An appropriations subcommittee, headed by Rep. Rooney (D) N. Y., has already acted on the bill and submitted it to the full committee for approval.

The subcommittee took no action detrimental to Acheson himself, but it was generally conceded that the big fight over the controversial cabinet official and the department he heads will come on the floor.

Republicans and southern Democrats are heading the anti-Acheson campaign. It would take a sizable combination of both to be successful.

the basis of the powerful team chosen by Peiping to deal with the U. N. truce delegation headed by Vice Admiral Charles T. Joy.

Significance was attached to Mao's selection of his ablest military tactician, Gen. Peng Teh-jui, and the high-ranking field commander Gen. Tung Hua, for the reason that both men are known to be "very close" to the Chinese communist leader and probably can speak for him except on decisions involving basic changes of Peiping policy.

never wanted Leo Silverstein as his attorney in the first place. The fallen gambling czar said Silverstein had been forced on him and he asked that Glenn A. Lane and Sidney M. Williams be substituted as his counsel.

As their first act, Cohen's new lawyers made a motion for a new trial, which the court quickly rejected.

The gambler's attorneys served oral notice of appeal and said that written notice would be filed within a few days.

The penalties meted out to him by Judge Harrison followed his conviction last month of defrauding the government out of $156,000 in his income tax returns for 1946, 1947 and 1948.

WAR PROSPECTS SEEM DECREASED

Officials in Washington, it is said, are virtually convinced now that there'll be no war with Russia this year—and possibly not at all in the future.

Reasons for this optimistic reasoning:

1. Russia very apparently is the moving and guiding hand behind the present attempts to negotiate a cease-fire in the Korean war. If Russia had a third world war in mind, it would want to keep the United States and its Allies continuously occupied in as many parts of the world as possible while it launched its attack.

2. Margaret Truman, the president's daughter, went to Europe. Officials believe that Miss Truman never would have been permitted anywhere near her present journey had there been a possibility of outbreak of World War III.

American leaders further believe that if peace continues this year, chances will be greatly increased that the United States won't have to fight Russia at all.

This school of thought bases its theory on the assumption that the United States will be too well armed—particularly in atomic weapons—by 1952 for the Soviet Union to launch an attack against us.

SEALED IN HELIUM

In 1823 John Quincy Adams had a copperplate facsimile made of the original parchment of the Declaration of Independence in order to give copies to the signers and their heirs. The process all but ruined the original.

The wet sheet pressing on the face of the parchment drew out the ink so that the signatures became illegible and almost invisible, the text partially so.

It is this, rather than the ravages of time and air, that is principally responsible for the present condition of the Declaration. The Declaration was assigned for safekeeping to the Department of State upon the organization of the national government, where it remained, part of the time in a steel case, until it was delivered to the Library of Congress, in recent times, for safekeeping.

The Library has been exhibiting the Declaration, which consists of one page of text, and five pages of the Constitution in air-tight cases. For decades these priceless originals were treated with scant consideration. It is, therefore, stretching the facts for the Library to insist that a search for methods to preserve them has lasted for 123 years.

Now the famous documents will be sealed in bronze and glass cases, filled with helium, which the National Bureau of Standards believes will halt further deterioration. As Justice Holmes said, "We live by symbols." It is good to know that the symbols which represent the realities of our freedom are thus to endure.

BUT STILL GIs

Henceforth, as far as the army is concerned, there may be no more GIs. An order to all public information officers instructed them that the preferred term is "soldiers." Thus: "Make no further use of the slang expression 'GI.'" All references to a man of the army should identify him primarily as a SOLDIER. Webster's Dictionary defines a soldier as a "skilled warrior" and never before in history has a soldier so richly deserved this definition.

That made it official, all right. But not even the army can control the vernacular, as it is now discovering. The term "doughboy" of World War I fame lapsed from disuse and changing circumstances, not because the War Department frowned upon it. The marines like to be called "Devil Dogs," considering the term a compliment. It is not officially discouraged for it has promotion value.

GI derives from general issue, or government issue, and is applied to food, soap, uniforms, haircuts and the individual private. The initials have a clear, specific connotation. A soldier's haircut hasn't at all the vivid meaning of a GI haircut. The army, like other institutions, can make itself look foolish, when it goes solemn and pretentious.

San Francisco Willing

The great city of San Francisco, with its quaint cable trolley cars and miles of docks reaching out toward the Orient, has open arms today for the possibility of a Japanese peace treaty conference in the wake of cease-fire negotiations in Korea.

Such a suggestion has been made in a memorandum attached to the most recent draft of the treaty which is now being circulated among the 16 nations who were former enemies of Japan and are now members of the Far Eastern Commission.

And the U. S. State Department has already notified Mayor Elmer E. Robinson of San Francisco that it would like to be host city to the treaty signers. The State Department did not mention any specific dates beyond the first week in September, but the mayor has set the time of the conference from September 4 to September 8.

As the birthplace of the United Nations, and as the city which considered itself most endangered when the Nippon fleet was sailing the Asian seas and Japanese "kamikaze" pilots were courting suicide in hopes of an impossible victory, San Francisco holds a place high in American history. It is, for one thing, a city which is proud of the fact that New York, rather than herself, was chosen to be permanent headquarters of the United Nations.

Visitors to San Francisco are soon impressed by the city's enthusiasm over continued existence of the U. N. in the face of seemingly insurmountable difficulties. San Franciscans are disturbed by travelers from the East who sometimes have a tendency to remark that the United Nations buildings on New York's East river might be converted into attractive apartments.

Progress of the true talks in Kaesong meanwhile has opened up a field of limitless possibilities. Well-warranted doubt was cast well in advance upon the sincerity of the Communist negotiators. But at the same time it was recognized that the Red Regime in Peiping would not have sent its people to a pre-armistice negotiation without full recognition of the current situation and its possible repercussions.

There are, to begin with, the formal attitude of Soviet Russia. This is likely to be cloaked in some silence and mystery while Jacob A. Malik last president of the United Nations Security Council, remains aboard the Swedish liner Gripsholm en route for a vacation in his Russian homeland. While Malik's vacation plans were announced well in advance, it is not without significance that the Red Regime in Peiping would not have sent its people to a pre-armistice negotiation without full recognition of the current situation and its possible repercussions.

READING TO THE YOUNG CHILD

Fortunate the children beginning school next fall who have been read to at home for several years. More fortunate still if they will be read to for several more years. Teachers easily recognize these children for their good vocabulary, superior speech and readiness to listen attentively to what is said in the classroom. No better training in the language arts and in good habits of concentration.

An octogenarian writes: "We read to our children before they even started to school—and no special stories—just everyday farm papers, magazines, books like 'Pillman's Progress,' 'Little Women,' 'Black Beauty' and from my old fifth Reader. Yes, some 'Mother Goose,' but they learned to like 'solid' reading. One high school teacher said they had the best vocabulary of any in school. I am 81 now but still interested in 'wee ones' and their progress in the right direction."

"Fast" For Reading
She might have added: These children acquired a taste for good books and reading and we and they cultivated happy comradeship through the reading. What is a better way for a parent and grandparents, too, to enjoy the child and for him to enjoy them? Once a little child has begun to listen eagerly when read to, he hardly can be satisfied in this direction. The mother of a youngster of 2½ writes, for example: "I guess she has 30 or 40 books. She cries for her daddy and me to read to her."

Fearful Stories
But this mother discovered what others might keep in mind beforehand and thus save the very young child from needless unhappiness—that fearful stories can be very harmful. To quote: "It seems lately that the books 'Little Red Riding Hood,' 'The Three Little Pigs' and 'Little Black Sambo' disturb her. In the stories the big bad wolf and tigers are going to eat the other characters up. And she doesn't sleep well the rest of the night. I had no idea that seemingly harmless stories could affect her in this way. Should I stop reading her these stories?"

Yes, for some months at least, I replied. Of course little children differ widely in their sensitivity to such fear appeals. In these stories we read to our own children, but soon decided to avoid "Little Red Riding Hood" because of its obvious ill effect. We even saw reasons to discontinue reading "Little Black Sambo" to one of our children when not much over two. Yet these stories do have powerful interest appeal as also have practically all other stories with apparent fear appeal. Certainly young parents should be alert to early signs of fear aroused in the child by any story. My selected list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Should Be Stopped

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

The day before yesterday, I read about a man who had invented a device which will enable wives always to get the car in the garage without denting a fender.

My first reaction was not what it should have been. As a husband and as a car owner, I should have been grateful to this creative genius, who has found a way to guide a lady safely through a garage door which has only a four-foot clearance on each side.

I am sorry he thought this thing up. Men are wearing themselves out thinking up things to make it easier for wives. This should be stopped immediately.

A husband cannot be a successful husband unless the lady of his choice is at fault. I think men like women for such odd and obscure reasons as dented fenders, burned toast, under-bolled potatoes, and drying lingerie on the shower-curtain rod.

Men love women for this sort of thing for only one reason. A man must have an excuse, always. There never was a man as nice as a girl. Men know that. So they must have something to find fault with.

Have you ever heard of a joke told about a wife coming home late? How many times have you read about a husband who arrived three hours after he said he would be there. All the stories are told about us men. We are the rascals. If you'll just allow me to say this, ninety per cent of the trouble between husbands and wives is due to husbands.

To get back to my opening theme: "Men cannot afford to have wives who are perfect. A husband just plain has to complain. When he is courtin', he spends his time being his very best. The only foot he shows is his best one. He can't wait to run around the car to open the door. He always takes his hat off in an elevator.

Why Women Are Spoiled
That is the reason women are spoiled. The only possible way to keep women in line is to make 'em work. The men who think up ways to prevent girls from denting fenders, who conceive things like electric washing machines, automatic driers, mechanical strawberry stemmers, jet-propelled carrot peelers, electronic mop wringers and atomic onion peelers, should be shot.

Men like that make money. But they'd be much better off if they climbed up a flagpole and pulled down the American flag. They would serve husbands better if they were draft dodgers. They would be more loyal to their fellow men if they went to Mount Vernon and threw rocks through the windows, or went to Grand Canyon and refused to look.

Wives must always know one thing. And this is it: Their husbands are scared of them. Any man who makes it easier for a wife, makes life more difficult for her husband.

Any man who disagrees with this is single. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

BUTCH & GRANDAD
Butch and Grandad get along fine. Butch runs and jumps and tumbles while Grandad does the slow motion stuff.

Butch's bones are young and flexible. They will stand pretty hard usage.

Grandad's bones are hard and brittle. They are strong enough for good hard usage but need a little care. Jumping and tumbling and falling might break one and that would be a calamity for Grandad and Butch.

The hip bone seems to be the most dangerous. A broken hip for Grandad would be a pretty serious proposition.

Stair steps seem to be the most risky places. Stairs rails and good lighting ought to help some.

They Say
SEOUL—Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, top negotiator in talks with the Communists. "My personal hope is that the shooting war will be over by the day after tomorrow."

AN AIRFIELD NEAR SEOUL—Lt. Harold W. Moore, who flew the U. N. delegation to Kaesong. "Yesterday I made a flight I wouldn't have missed for anything in the world. It will be something I can tell my grandchildren about."

WASHINGTON—Price Administrator Disalle. "To repay our obligation to those who have died, this hour demands discipline and realism. Peace is not yet secure. In many parts of the world bloodshed continues."

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Morris Caffritz, one of Washington's top hostesses. "If a person is intellectually honest, a little relaxation will do him good no matter what his political affiliation is."

Garden Notes
To keep polyantha or small-flowered ramblers roses in continuous bloom, cut off flower clusters.

If you have a garden terrace and it is in partial sun and you want a plant to creep over the stones, use Veronica filiformis. It has a flat mass of leaves about one-half inch in diameter and small blue flowers.

When eggplant fruits begin to set, an application of liquid plant food will stimulate them. The fruit should be picked from the plants while the skin has a high gloss.

Mulching tomato plants about the time the fruit starts to show color is a good practice. It conserves moisture in the soil and prevents the roots from being disturbed by too much close cultivating.

Politicians Ever Fade?

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—Unless you were born yesterday, you ordinarily must out laughing when two politicians tell you that they may quit national politics—but two gentlemen from Indiana have lately told me this, and maybe they really meant it at the time.

Anyhow, their attitudes are sincere, their reasons make sense and their names are interesting. They are Senator William Jenner and young Philip Wilkie, the latter being a member of the Indiana legislature and currently serving as chief counsel for the Senate sub-committee on ethics.

Jenner, a dark and violent Hoosier-edition of Senator Joe McCarthy, makes no secret of his loathing for life in Tru Deal Washington. He is, I think, the one man in the upper chamber who truthfully doesn't care whether or not school keeps. He will tell you in unprintable language that the expurgated Administration has got the country into such an obscene mess that the air of national politics is no longer fit to breathe.

And He Isn't Fooling

What makes Jenner's observations worth recording is that he isn't fooling—he means just what he says. It is possible to discount some of McCarthy's assaults on Democratic dignitaries, for McCarthy wants to stay in Washington and McCarthyism seems like any way to do it. Not so with Jenner. His spleen is the ill-temper of a man who sincerely believes that the government is run by fools and knaves—both types deserving of extermination—and who really intends to remove himself hence, although the hence may not be any further away than the governorship of Indiana.

Young Wilkie's personality and viewpoint couldn't be more different from Jenner's, but Wilkie is also edging away from national politics at exactly the time when many people thought he was edging in.

As ethics-investigator, Wilkie came to Washington just when the crime busters of the Kefauver Committee were beginning to make hay for themselves. Rudolph Halley, the Kefauver counsel, had become candidate for president of the New York City Council. Kefauver himself had cashed in on his revelations in the Saturday Evening Post. Senator O'Connor, candidate for reelection next year, was becoming positively evangelical in the pursuit of sin and votes. It seemed almost trite to predict that Wilkie, already something of a figure among Young Republicans, would use his position as a springboard to publicity and personality-building.

Scheduled To Close

But the ethics investigation, symbolically staged in the old Supreme Court Room, is scheduled to close this week, and Wilkie has hardly been heard from. This is not because he hasn't been busy. It's because he has taken some care not to play the show-off and not to distract attention from the purpose of the inquiry. Behind this self-effacing attitude of Wilkie's is his not-quite-resolved desire to give national politics the go-by, at least for a period of several years.

To understand this feeling in the square-built, fresh-faced young man, you have to know that he's only 31 years old, just married, a brilliant lawyer and student of economics with degrees from three universities—and that he's the late Wendell Wilkie's son. You have to know, too, that young Wilkie believes the third decade of a man's life is a time for unfettered adventuring after knowledge and accomplishment. He is inclined to think that his father's experience in public life was the best kind, after all. The elder Wilkie practiced law, enjoyed family life and gave himself to non-seeking citizenship until late in his forties. At that time he miraculously became a national figure without having spent the good years of his life in pursuit of political honors.

Pull Out Of National Politics?

So it is that Philip Wilkie, although he'll run next year for reelection to the legislature, is inclined to pull out of national politics when he might very well have tried to muscle in. He's a young man who's found out early that there are better things in life than office-seeking.

Booth Tarkington used to say that Hoosiers are born-politicians and that they go on talking politics after they're dead. The great Indiana novelist's testimony on this subject ought to warn anybody against believing that Jenner and Wilkie could quit, even if they really wanted to. No doubt, both of them will eat their hairy words by the time 1952 rolls around. Meanwhile, with so many ordinary citizens saying harsh things about politics, it's instructive to know that even politicians occasionally wonder if the game's worth while.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

After talking to hundreds of people in all sorts of social and economic circumstances, I have discovered another one of today's troubles.

There are too many "antis" and not enough "pros." Everybody has a pet aversion. Most have several. Everybody is AGAINST something. Very few are FOR something.

It seems to me that the general outlook on life has become too negative.

We were discussing politics last evening. Present were Democrats and Republicans. Also a very intelligent person who called herself a "Liberal Republican," whatever that means.

None were politicians. But all had definite views on politics. The "Liberal Republican" approved the United Nations in principle. But she admitted that so far they haven't accomplished very much. She is violently anti-Truman, and anti-Acheson, but also as violently anti-MacArthur and anti-Taft.

I asked her what she is FOR. She couldn't tell me. She wouldn't vote for any Democrat on a bet. What Republican would she vote for? I asked her. She couldn't think of anyone right now.

A couple of the regular Republicans at our little get-together were, of course, against everything and anything the Democrats are doing or intending to do.

But they didn't think, either, that there is any Republican in the offing who could pull the country out of the mess it's in—as they call it.

Then there were the Democrats. They were also anti-Truman, anti-Acheson, anti-Barkley, anti-Marshall. Who were they for? They didn't know.

I get a lot of mail from all over the country. Much of it is about politics.

The great majority of the letters are AGAINST something or somebody. Somebody or something is always WRONG.

Yet, those same people who know what or whom they don't want, don't seem to have any idea whom or what they DO want.

Nobody in his right mind would ever think of getting on a train, on a boat or plane unless he knew where he was going.

And before they do go—after they have decided where—they choose their particular mode of transportation.

If they can't decide—they stay home.

Nothing will ever be accomplished by being AGAINST. Anybody can criticize and gripe. Progress has always been—and WILL always be—accomplished by being FOR something and then going after it.

When our forefathers were AGAINST British domination, they kicked out the king and founded the Republic.

But BEFORE they kicked him out they first were FOR something. They were FOR FREEDOM. Before we are against whom and what we don't want, let us first decide whom and what we do want instead.

St. John United Holy church congregation purchased an old building on the corner of Moravia and Reynolds streets in 1946. They repaired and improved this building as much as was possible, trying to make it a place of worship.

In the spring of 1950 the congregation decided to tear down the old building and replace it with a safer structure. The only portion they let stand was the vestibule which they had added a short time before the decision was made to tear down the old building.

Program of Week
Program for this week, July 10, Rev. Samuel Baker of the Clifton Flats Mission; July 11, Rev. Germany from the Fire Baptized Holy church of Youngstown will be the guest speaker. And on July 13 Rev. Laura Adams from the Beulah Temple Holy church will speak.

Sunday, July 15, has been designated as "Women's Day". The women, exclusively, will be in charge of all services on that day.

Governor Fine Makes Appeal For New Taxes

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine last night made the second half of his state-wide appeal for increased taxes to balance the budget and he claimed things are "going my way" in the words wrangle with the legislature which has opposed his income tax proposal.

He spoke over five radio stations and one television outlet to tell Pittsburgh district listeners he would leave a substitute tax program "entirely for the legislature without comment."

Three weeks ago he spoke in Philadelphia to urge adoption of his tax program. At that time he attacked the opposition of Senate majority leader John M. Walker of Oakmont.

Least Burdensome

Last night Fine had nothing to say about Walker but he repeated his claim that an income tax would be the "least burdensome" levy to impose.

"If the legislature continues to feel otherwise," Fine stated, "they should place upon my desk the requisite tax measures to meet the essential appropriations."

He said duty "impels" him to tell taxpayers the "commonwealth needs 112 million tax dollars to balance its present budget."

The governor continued to urge adoption of the $20,000,000 appropriation for civil defense.

Rather confidently, he said he has tried to dispel the confusion surrounding the state budget and added "my opponents have given me tremendous help" by admitting "we need all the money we claimed to balance our budget."

FISH AND HAIL RAIN ON CHEYENNE

"Perch," says J. R. Snedaker.

"Hailstones," says Ann Leggett.

NEIGHBORS OF J. R. SNEDAKER of Cheyenne, Wyo., phoned him after a record-breaking hail storm to tell him his home was atop with small fish. Inspection showed numerous small perch on the roofs of his house and adjoining garage, in the drains, in his yard and in yards on either side of his property. Many of the fish were smashed. "I think they came down with the hail," Snedaker said. "I've heard of that sort of thing before." The ice pellets, largest in the city's history, ruined gardens and damaged property extensively.

Is Recommended For Bronze Star For Heroic Action

Pfc. Kenneth D. Vaneman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vaneman, of 621 Junior High street, has been recommended for the Bronze Star Award, for heroic action last May, which occurred in fighting around Hill 1051, in Korea.

The citation, which was recommended by Sgt. Joseph Danials, of Vaneman's company, states that on the afternoon of May 19, Pfc. Vaneman, of Co. H, 38th Regiment, 81 M. M. Mortar platoon, with a volunteer group, entered enemy surrounded positions to recover loss of his platoon's 81 M. M. Mortar.

Under light enemy fire, which pinned down the group, Pfc. Vaneman, without regard for his own safety, dashed forward to pick up his 81 mortar, and carried it to a jeep nearby. Then fighting his way back to an alternate position, inflicted light enemy casualties.

Pfc. Vaneman has been in Korea since last October. He expects to be home on a 30-day leave the last of July, according to additional word received by his parents.

'TOO LATE FOR WORDS!'

Painfully, slowly, a message is tapped on a dungeon wall. It's a familiar message—one heard a thousand times over in a dozen countries of Europe and Asia.

LISTEN... it's a message of lost hope, of lost rights and freedom! LISTEN... for this message is a warning for those of us who still are free!

We in America are willingly giving up some of our rights and freedoms—temporarily. As the price of rearming, we're giving government vast powers over our plans, our businesses, our very lives.

The danger is that these powers may become permanent. There are people—in and out of government—who say they should—even though that means a socialistic U.S.A.

Unless all of us remember the difference between temporary emergency powers and permanent socialism, it may some day be "too late" for Americans, too!

Weak, Run-Down Men and Women

Often Feel and Act Years Younger When They Take Ferrizan

Thousands of men and women with their youth behind them are finding the strain of modern life and work exhausting—their energy and vitality gone—their strength and a low ebb. Often because they fail to get from their food the proper amount of Iron and Iodine, and the necessary valuable vitamins every one needs if they expect to regain and retain a normal, healthy body.

Is it surprising that Doctors tell such folks to ease up—get more rest—give their tired nerves and body a chance to get well—and take vitamins? Certainly not. The Vitamin-Mineral way is the modern way—the tested, proven way; and one right way is to take Ferrizan, the complete modern dietary supplement that gives you each and every day a full supply of the important B Vitamins, with plenty of Iron to enrich the blood and the full daily requirement of that most important element—Iodine, so universally deficient in inland areas.

To all who suffer from these depressing symptoms we say, "try Ferrizan at our risk for thirty days. See if it doesn't bring about a remarkable improvement. If it fails or if you are in any way dissatisfied it won't cost you a penny," says Love & Megown.

St. Vitus Holy Name Hears Talk By Sharon Coach

Members of the St. Vitus Holy Name Society received Holy Communion in a body, Sunday morning, with about 600 participating. It was announced by Dr. John P. Prioletti that 72 young men, who last month received Holy Communion with their fathers, have now joined the Holy Name Society.

After the mass, a delicious breakfast, prepared by the Altar and Rosary Society, was served in the church hall. Rev. Fr. Raymond Heintz director, opened the meeting with prayer and Holy Name pledge.

During brief remarks Dr. Prioletti urged the fathers to guide their sons and to direct them toward being good Holy Name members.

Sports chairman Anthony Marino presented a Bible to William F. DeCarbo. Dom Coffi stated that a few reservations are still open for the Notre Dame retreat scheduled for August 16. Those interested are to contact Mr. Coffi. William Russo, Francis Augustine or William Bullano.

Program chairman, Paul Failla introduced the main speaker, Peter J. Colliodi, head basketball coach of Sharon high school. Mr. Colliodi is familiar in this area, having been superintendent, principal and basketball coach at West Middlesex. During World War II he served three years with the Air Corps. His talk on "Faith" was well received. By having Faith in God many men have achieved their goal. He urged the Holy Name members to set good examples.

BOY IS DROWNED

HARRISBURG, July 10.—(INS)—Grappling crews today searched for the body of 15-year-old Paul Wilson, of Red Lion, believed to have drowned in the Susquehanna river near Wrightsville.

The body of Nicholas Laventure, 28, of Long Level, was recovered in 15 feet of water last night, five hours after a small boat carrying the pair capsized in the choppy water.

A third occupant, Charles C. Knisley, 33, of Red Lion, swam safely to an island.

Hunt Property Of Virginia Hill Hauser

CHICAGO, July 10.—(INS)—Internal Revenue agents searched today for Cook county property owned by Virginia Hill Hauser, the mobsters' girl friend who figured in recent hearings of the Senate Crime committee.

Mrs. Hauser ran afoul of the Internal Revenue department yesterday for the second time within a week when Collector John T. Jarecki filed a $48,369.44 lien against her in Chicago.

Three days earlier the government moved in on her $35,000 home in Spokane, Wash., for back taxes reportedly due for the years 1942 through 1947.

Jarecki said the lien filed yesterday represents $25,354.09 in income taxes Mrs. Hauser owed for 1946 and $23,015 she owed for 1947. He said it will prevent sale or transfer of any property in her name.

Agents are seeking to question Joe Epstein, the Chicago gambler, in hopes that he may know where the Cook county property is located. Mrs. Hauser described Epstein in her testimony before the crime committee as her financial adviser.

BIG JOE BRUNO DIES

The one-time Schuylkill county Republican leader was convicted of second degree murder as an aftermath of the slayings and was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in prison.

Big Joe escaped from his guards while awaiting transfer from Pottsville jail to Eastern penitentiary in 1936 and remained at liberty until recaptured in New York a year later.

Farm Roundup
Fruit Prices To Be About Same
Early Production
Will Be Larger

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The agriculture department said today that growers probably will get about the same prices they received last year for most fruits this summer although July prices may drop slightly.

Officials said early season production is expected to be considerably larger than last year, contributing to a slight price decline. Later in the summer prices should level upwards again.

Recent crop reports forecast the total output of deciduous fruits at six per cent more this year than last. The crop study showed increases for peaches, grapes, plums, prunes and strawberries should more than offset declines in apricots, cherries and apples. A larger walnut crop also is in prospect.

The 1951 peach crop is expected to be about 23 per cent larger than the small crop last year, while prospects in the southern states are for a peach crop three times the short 1950 crop.

Officials said the strawberry crop this year will be the largest since 1942. Both grower and wholesaler prices for strawberries were generally lower in early June than the year before.

Grower prices for the entire 1951 crop probably will not average quite as high as the $7.48 a crate growers got last season.

Michigan extension editors have polled the poultrymen in their state to find out what practices were followed by those who market the highest percentage of grade A eggs.

They found the farmers with the best grade of eggs usually did one or more of these things: They gathered eggs more than twice a day, cooled eggs in a wire basket or wire tray, sold their eggs more than twice a week and maintained lower than average temperatures in the egg-holding room.

The extension men report one farmer increased his percentage of grade A from 50 to 86 per cent by gathering eggs three times a day instead of once and keeping them in a cave instead of a porch.

Most farmers know that eggs will cool off twice as fast in a wire basket as in a pail. If eggs are gathered in a pail, don't leave them there all day.

At Summer Theatre

"Mr. Barry's Etchings," a three act comedy by Walter Bullock and Daniel Archer, will open tonight at 8:15 for a five day run in the Westminster College Little Theatre.

Three Lawrence county play-makers will have prominent roles in the production. Title role will be carried by David E. MacArthur, New Wilmington, instructor in speech and dramatic arts at the college, and associate director of the summer theatre series.

Two Ellwood City students will have roles in the play. They are Marian Brodbeck, Beechwood boulevard, and Bill Stedman, 106 2nd street. Both have had active roles in four summer theater productions offered earlier in the season.

MILLIONTH CLAIM
HARRISBURG, July 10.—(INS)—The millionth claim in 36 years on the state workmen's insurance fund is scheduled to be paid today to John H. Bale, a Harrisburg janitor injured last January when he fell from a ladder.

Labor and industry secretary David M. Walker, who is slated to make the presentation, reported that the fund has paid out $78,198,281 from the $119,800,902 paid by industrial and mercantile employers.

FIGHTS PAY RISE
WASHINGTON, R. I.—Miss Ardis Barbour, clerk of the Washington fire and lighting district, objected strongly when the district raised her salary from $75 to $125 a year. "That's altogether too much," said Miss Barbour. "Remember I took this job for no pay at all as a public spirited citizen."

News Briefs
From City Hall

Mrs. Oliver Hoch appeared before council Monday morning to have a sewer put in from Wilmington avenue to the corner of West Winter and Beaver, where a new house is being constructed.

There is no sewer line out West Winter avenue and it is impossible to connect up with the other lines west of Wilmington avenue, because of the different heights, it is reported.

Council authorized the city engineer to ask for estimates on the laying of an eight-inch pipe, with Mrs. Hoch agreeing to pay approximately $400 costs.

City council gave permission for the use of the fire company's ladder truck to repair a chain at the top of the American Legion flag pole, at Monday's council meeting.

Council authorized the employment of Carl S. Cobb in the garbage disposal department for several weeks to replace Andrew Perkins, who was injured.

Full payment for the new grader, received by the city recently, was voted to be withheld until the receipt of the bulldozer attachment, which is expected to arrive within the next month. Payment was authorized by council for the part received.

Twelve Inch Water Main Is Given Thorough Cleaning

Even water mains need a bath now and then. Or perhaps a manicure would be the proper term.

That's what has been happening on the 12-inch water main of the City of New Castle. Water company, leading from Audley avenue down to Sheridan, over Sheridan to Neshannock boulevard and then down the boulevard to Moody avenue.

A metallic cleaner is placed in the main, and the pressure of the water forces it through. The cleaner, a flexible hydraulic cleaner, is about five feet long with articulated joints. Each joint has a set of 12 wide steel fingers, some of them serrated, some of them smooth and some set at various angles.

Two of the joints have pusher cups on them which aids in the trip through the main. Traveling about 50 and 75 feet a minute the cleaner takes out scale and corrosion, pushing it along to the end of the journey.

In this case the end of the journey is at Moody and Neshannock boulevard and when the pipe is opened and the collection of corrosion pours out it will come out like thick soup for a time.

At the corner of Sheridan and Neshannock boulevard the cleaner stuck due to a sharp angle and it was necessary to dig down and replace the angle.

The line was laid some 35 years ago but today the cast iron pipes are as good as the day they were laid.

For a short time about three residents on the end of Sheridan avenue were without water but service was soon resumed.

Hospital Strike In Minneapolis Is Being Ended

MINNEAPOLIS, July 10.—(INS)—Normal operations are being restored in ten Minneapolis hospitals as some 300 striking AFL Public Building Service union workers returned to their jobs.

The back-to-work movement followed issuance last Saturday by Judge D. E. Labelle of a temporary injunction banning picketing at the ten hospitals.

Picket lines had hampered deliveries of food and other supplies to the hospitals for more than a week.

The workers walked out in a dispute over wages and hours. The union demanded a pay increase of ten cents an hour and a 40-hour week. Hospital authorities offered an 80-hour fortnight but contended a 40-hour week was impractical.

A threat to the prospect of settlement developed as several of the ten hospitals refused to take back workers who had failed to report for duty before the strike was made official. The hospitals claimed the workers had forfeited all contract rights.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Just The Way They Are

"I just don't know what to make of that fifteen-year-old of mine!" complained Mrs. Prentice. "Yesterday he was insisting that I tell him what socks he should wear. Today, when we were talking about the courses he might take at school next year, he became impatient with me and said, 'Just leave me alone. I know how to manage things.'"

That's the way these young people of ours are. They have mixed feelings. Part of the time they want us to treat them as though they were still little boys and girls. Then, again, they want to be completely independent of our direction or advice.

This business of growing up is a complicated thing. Youngsters are uncertain about what they want and need. Certainly, they need to learn to stand on their own feet. But that's often a new and not-too-comfortable experience. It is only natural that they will now and again fall back on us. The part of parents and teachers is to recognize what the situation is and to be ready to stand by with comfort and advice when it is requested. Yet, at the same time, we must be ready to keep hands off when they are struggling to be on their own.

It's not an easy role to play. But if we can carry through, it will mean a great deal to the junior members of the family.

"Rent Gouging" In Areas Near Military Camps Being Probed

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—Chairman Johnson (D-Tex.) said his Senate war preparedness subcommittee has been told by the armed forces that they may have to seek a boost in manpower ceilings.

But Johnson said that none of the services has yet reached its authorized strength and that no request has been made for an increase. In the new draft-UMT bill, Congress limited the armed forces to five-million men.

Johnson also announced that his committee has ordered a speedup on reports of "rent-gouging" in areas near military establishments. Investigators recently looked into conditions at Fort Jackson, S. C., Camp Breckenridge, Ky., Camp Atterbury, Ind., Camp Pickett, Va., and Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Johnson said the committee discussed the possibility of launching a new series of hearings on the present status of the nation's preparedness program. The stockpiling of essential materials, manpower and U. S. commitments abroad would come under committee investigation.

At a meeting this morning the group ordered its staff to check into complaints that gambling and prostitution are disrupting the defense program in some communities.

Forfeiture Of Bond Asked

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 10.—(INS)—Forfeiture of the $60,000 bond posted by Charles A. Guzik, son of the Capone henchman, Jake (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, was sought by Maricopa county attorney Warren L. McCarthy today on the ground that Guzik left Arizona without court consent.

The move was initiated in superior judge Fred C. Stuckmeyer's court late yesterday.

No immediate action was taken on the forfeiture request. Instead, Guzik, who is facing 37 felony and misdemeanor counts of misconduct with teenage boys, was given 48 hours in which to place himself within the jurisdiction of the court.

The implication was that if he is not back in Arizona by that time, forfeiture will be considered, if not ordered.

Guzik's attorney, George T. Wilson, told the court that his client was not in Arizona, but did not say where he was.

Some days ago, following his release from jail for the first time since May 22, Guzik flew to Chicago. He returned to Phoenix when a new complaint was filed against him.

After his latest release he was due back in Phoenix next Saturday for his preliminary hearing on that complaint.

Quick Decision On Cease-Fire Not Indicated

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

UN TRUCE CAMP NEAR KAESONG, July 11 — (Wednesday) — (INS)—The second round of careful Korean truce talks opens in Kaesong at 11 a. m. today (8 p. m. Tuesday EDT) after initial meetings in which allied and Communist negotiators were reported to have "made progress."

Following return of the five-man UN delegation, headed by Vice Admiral Charles Turner Joy, to the allied truce camp 15 miles below Kaesong, a briefing officer said they gave the impression "they made progress toward an agenda to discuss an armistice."

No Quick Decision
This limited progress, coupled with cancellation of permission for newsmen to go to Kaesong today, aroused speculation that the conference may not reach a quick decision on a cease-fire.

In cancelling the Kaesong trip, Brig. Gen. Frank Allen, UN information chief, reminded the correspondents Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had said they could go to the "armistice city" only after the conference is on the tracks and there is assurance that it will stay on the tracks.

Meanwhile, there was an unofficial cease-fire in effect on the extreme western Korea front in the general area of Kaesong, but fighting continued in the air and on the ground in other sectors.

Moody Aid To Truman Bloc

New Michigan Senator Lines Up For Administration

WASHINGTON, July 10—(INS)—The pro-administration liberal bloc of the Senate has welcomed with open arms and grateful hearts Blair Moody, the new Democratic senator appointed to the seat of the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R) of Michigan.

Moody has shown that he is prepared to go down the line for the administration's domestic program, and what's more he has shown a fighting spirit and a flair for newsworthy statements that others of his persuasions sadly lack.

A former top-rank Washington correspondent, the new senator has no illusions about Washington and he knows his way around as few other legislative freshmen ever have.

No Backdown—Senator Robert Taft (R), Ohio, who has a presidential shot to risk as well as his party's chances in 1952, isn't backing down a bit on his swinging attack on the Truman foreign policy and on the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Some Republicans have viewed Taft's first statement challenging the "integrity of judgment" of Gen. Omar Bradley and his fellow chiefs as risky political business.

But Taft, obviously aware of any political dynamite which may be involved, has made it clear he stands on what he said originally—that, in effect, Bradley is a "stooge" of the Truman administration.

Taft said the only way to lick the Truman administration is to attack it—especially on foreign policy, because that constitutes nine-tenths of the nation's expenditures and effort.

Yak-Yak—The Senate faces an ultimate showdown on whether it wants to talk less voluntarily or submit to some sort of restriction on irrelevant debate.

Thoughtful senators are pondering the growing tendency of senators to exercise their right to speak at length on any subject under the sun.

In the 81st Congress, the number of hours in session of any preceding Senate—and the record of the 82nd Congress so far gives no promise of relief—much to the detriment of the business on hand.

In a move to alleviate this condition, Senator Robert C. Hendrickson (R), New Jersey, has introduced a resolution calling on the Senate to amend its rules to require that debate be limited to the business before the Senate.

It looks as if the Senate has really talked itself into a problem.

Milk Price Boost Ordered July 17 In Three Areas

HARRISBURG, July 10—(INS)—The State Milk Control Commission today ordered price increases to go into effect July 17 in three western Pennsylvania areas.

Retail milk prices will rise one cent a quart in the Pittsburgh and Erie areas and one-half cent in Johnstown-Altoona.

The hikes were ordered by the MCC following review of testimony offered by dealers, producers and consumers in hearings two weeks ago in each area.

The new prices are unchanged from those ordered originally to take effect July 1 but delayed by the hearings. They are:

Pittsburgh, 23 cents delivered and 22 cents across the counter; Erie, 22½ cents; Johnstown-Altoona, 22 cents.

Producers' prices were ordered to rise 35 cents to $6.05 a hundredweight (46½ quarts) for class I milk in Pittsburgh and Erie and 17 cents to $5.92 a hundredweight in Johnstown-Altoona.

All of the price boosts are subject to approval of the U. S. Office of Price Stabilization. A commission spokesman said they will take effect as scheduled unless the OPS orders a halt.

The July 1 effective date was set back after the city of Pittsburgh filed a protest in Dauphin county court and the commission agreed to hearings.

The date had been chosen, according to Commissioner J. J. Snyder, because of the scheduled expiration of the OPS. June 30. Life of the agency has been extended temporarily by Congress.

Postpone Trade Talks Among Big Four Powers

BERLIN, July 10—(INS)—Trade talks among the big four powers in Berlin were postponed indefinitely today.

The conferences, the first in Berlin between the western powers and Russia since July, 1949, were adjourned when the Soviets insisted they have a right to control traffic between Berlin and western Germany.

A western spokesman said that the United States, Britain and France must have a "positive expression of Soviet good intentions" before a date is fixed for further talks.

OPERATOR TOLL DIALING
...and Long Distance is faster than ever!

With an amazing new Long Distance system, just installed in New Castle, Pittsburgh and other Western Pennsylvania communities at a cost of more than $8,000,000, Long Distance Operators now dial direct to telephones in more than a thousand distant cities. The new system is called "Operator Toll Dialing."

Here's how this speedy new system works. Suppose you want to call a friend in, say, Oakland, California. You simply pick up your telephone and give the number to your Long Distance Operator, just as you've always done. Punching a set of keys that look like those on an adding machine—and are twice as fast as ordinary dials—she "dials" the 3-digit code for Oakland and then your friend's number. A series of electronic switches searches out the speediest available cross-country route and rings the number. In a matter of seconds after you have placed your call—usually under a minute—you hear "Hello!" from across the country.

YOU CAN HELP MAKE OUT-OF-TOWN CALLS EVEN FASTER!

You can help make Long Distance service even faster by following these two suggestions:

CALL BY NUMBER

to avoid an extra call to information in the distant city

REMAIN ON THE LINE

It's a smart idea to keep a handy list of out-of-town numbers you have occasion to call. If you'd like a Personal Telephone Directory for this purpose, just ask our Business Office.

United Nations Keeps Hands Off Truce Parley

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., July 10.—The United Nations is following a "hands off" policy on the Kaesong cease-fire negotiations but is prepared to respond promptly to any requests for advice or intervention by Gen. Ridgway if a deadlock threatens.

Developments from the cease-fire proposal by Soviet delegate Jacob Malik to the opening of talks between U. N. military delegates and the Communists have given some ground for satisfaction to top officials and representatives of the world organization.

However, they back up what they call Gen. Ridgway's "healthy" attitude that it is up to the Communists to demonstrate "by performance" that they can be trusted to comply with international agreements reached in either the military or political field.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate at U. N., said developments in Korea to this point have been "encouraging."

Stressing that the meeting in Kaesong concerns itself with the immediate necessity of silencing guns on both sides, Austin stated: "The direction of events revealed by the reports from Korea is encouraging. Distance is extremely important also, therefore we must make no premature interferences."

Time To Stand Fast
"Now is the time to stand fast and firm in our faith."

Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain is of the opinion that even the cease-fire negotiations will be long and difficult.

Top level conferences are under way in U. N. and among western diplomats on next steps once a successful armistice has been put into operation. It is recognized that in view of past performance on the part of Communist regimes, the U. N. will face tremendous pressure for cautious dealing with Peiping before existing suspicion and distrust by the western world can be overcome.

The critical period anticipated by the U. N. if the cease-fire negotiations are successful is the time when both sides must carry out stipulated provisions of the armistice. Refusal by the Communists to accept a U. N. "watch-dog" commission—presumably with Russian officers serving on it on behalf of Peiping—would be regarded as a warning sign that the "performance" mentioned by Gen. Ridgway is going to fall short of western expectations.

A second major by the Communists, as viewed at U. N., would be refusal to grant unconditional access to U. N. inspection and observation teams behind the line of Peiping and North Korean troops. The U. N. military delegates have instructions to give full assurance of access to Communist inspectors once the "watch dog" commission is in operation.

Thirdly, there is some apprehension at U. N. that Peiping might conduct too violent a "victory" propaganda campaign and thereby spoil the atmosphere for mapping a durable armistice at Kaesong.

Quick Recovery After Operation

PHILIPSBURG, N. J., July 10.—Just 48 hours after a surgeon had massaged his heart back into action, Frederick Sanders, 49, was allowed to leave his bed in Philippsburg's Warren hospital tonight.

Dr. G. Homer Bloom, chief surgeon at the hospital, performed the miraculous operation Saturday after Sanders' heart and respiration had stopped for a full five minutes. Making a six-inch incision in Sanders' chest, Dr. Bloom massaged the heart, which began beating after two minutes and began pumping normally in ten minutes.

Sanders, a hernia patient, had been under anesthesia for ten minutes when his heart stopped beating. Dr. Bloom said he had in mind a similar heart operation on Mrs. Helen Keith, 37, in Peter Brigham hospital in Boston last Thursday.

Intimidation
Is ClaimedWitnesses Say
Threats Made

The office of Sheriff Frank L. Coen is looking for Howard McWhorter who is being sought on an attachment or bench warrant, issued by Judge W. Walter Braham.

It is charged that McWhorter intimidated witnesses in the divorce suit brought by his wife Marian.

The suit was called for last Friday but no one showed up. Witnesses were interviewed and said McWhorter had threatened them if they appeared in court. On Monday they appeared and told their story to Judge Braham.

For the present, McWhorter is under a charge of indirect contempt of court. If the charges prove valid a charge of intimidation of witnesses could be made.

GENERAL APATHY

General Apathy seems to be the commanding officer of the present primary campaign. It may be the heat, it may be the fact that the election comes smack in the middle of summer or it may be that folks just don't care a whoop.

Whatever the cause, there appears to be about as much interest generally, as there is in the proposal to make Esperanto the universal language.

Here and there a few fights have been started between candidates, but they seem to be largely private fights.

New York City's Bread Strike Is Near Settlement

NEW YORK, July 10.—(INS)—New York City's bread strike appeared near settlement today after a peace formula was worked out by a special committee appointed by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri.

The 500 striking bakery truckmen and the 16 major bread producers involved are to give their answers by 5 p.m. (EDT) to a proposal which would grant the truck drivers a five-day week in place of the present six-day week. In addition it provides for a two-year contract, no change in base pay but guarantees weekly pay.

The formula to settle the nine-day-old strike which has practically banished white bread from grocer's shelves in the metropolitan area, was worked out in a five-hour mediation session that ended last midnight.

If terms are accepted by both sides, bread deliveries are expected to be resumed Thursday morning.

Schlesinger Asks
Indictment Against Him Be Quashed

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh attorney, accused of the same charges as the clients he is defending, today had on file a petition citing 22 reasons for his request that Common Pleas Court quash his indictment.

The attorney, Hymen Schlesinger, who was arrested last June 11 on sedition charges filed by a former FBI agent, claimed also that Allegheny county guards beat him "about the chest and arms" and forced him to remove his coat and shoes before they locked him "in a narrow dark cell in the cellar of the jail."

Schlesinger is a defense attorney in the sedition trial of Communist leaders Andy Onda and James Dolson in Pittsburgh. He is free on $5,000 bail.

Charles L. Dye, warden of county jail, claimed Schlesinger's shirt was torn when he scuffled with guards. Dye said the attorney didn't want to submit to a search or fingerprinting.

And Dye defended putting him in the cellar cell by saying, "that's where we always put prisoners when they refuse to abide by the rules and regulations."

Governor Plans Policy Change

Plans To Meet Men Of Press Frequently

HARRISBURG, July 10—(INS) Governor Fine is expected to liberalize the Press conference policy which has been the rule in the governor's office since early in 1947. . . . He plans frequent meetings with newsmen assigned to Capitol Hill and is "considering at least one each week. . . . On July 6, Governor Fine held the first Press conference with newsmen since February 6. . . . He had side-stopped mass meetings with newsmen in the interim due largely to the illness and then tragic death of his wife and a fretful legislature. He always was available to newsmen individually. . . . The regular Press conference policy which prevailed through the Earle, James, and Martin administrations was dropped by James H. Duff after he was inaugurated in January, 1947. . . . Duff was usually able to handle the barrage of questions when he held one of the very few meetings with newsmen during his four years in office. . . . Duff didn't have more than a dozen mass Press conferences during his tenure.

Whether by design or accident, Governor Fine was "boxed" by legislative officials into approving a 50 per cent increase in the initial "expense" account payment which totaled $900. . . . They had the checks written to include a $300 increase before the bill was passed finally and placed on his desk. . . . Had Fine vetoed the measure, it would have required that all checks be re-written for the $600 paid semi-annually to lawmakers since 1947. . . . However, Fine had the last word. . . . He went along with the initial boost using hold-over money but withheld all funds for future increases until the legislature actually makes the money available. . . . The move is part of the maneuver planned by Fine to whip lawmakers into line in support of substitute taxation for the income tax spiked in the Senate.

Capitol Hill Republican leaders are shaking their heads over the latest turn of events in the Republican party involving U. S. Sen. James H. Duff. . . . In the 1948 campaign, Duff led the fight against nominating New York Governor Dewey for president. . . . His contempt for Dewey before and after the Philadelphia convention was no secret among newsmen. . . . Now, Duff is waving the banner for General Eisenhower as the GOP presidential nominee in 1952 and has as a "buddy" none other than Dewey. . . . Also joining in the fun is Harold Stassen, University of Pennsylvania president, fought by both Dewey and Duff in the 1948 convention. A spokesman for Duff has denied specifically that the senator went to Albany to see Dewey and insisted that the New York governor has not been to Washington to see Duff. . . . Nothing was said about the likelihood that they either discuss Eisenhower's availability by telephone or meet some place other than Albany or Washington.

Tom Shriver, onetime Philadelphia sports writer and later a staff writer for the Harrisburg Patriot-News, has abandoned newspaper work to help handle publicity for the regular organization Republicans in Dauphin County. . . . After the primary campaign, plans approved by Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, county boss for a third of a century, call for Shriver to be placed on the State Treasury Department payroll as a publicity man.

The disclosure that Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livenood, Jr., and State Pardon Board Secretary Joseph Nisley were promised a fee for drafting legislation to raise salaries of county officials, has touched off another dispute over the propriety of the pair operating as a Harrisburg law firm. . . . The outcome of the latest wrangle may provide the answer. . . . Elected county officials are requested by law to file periodic reports with the Internal Affairs Department. . . . Some officials needing legal advice may find it convenient to retain a Harrisburg firm.

Ordinance Introduced To Vacate East End Of McCleary Avenue

Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg introduced an ordinance at council meeting Monday, calling for vacating of McCleary avenue from the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks east and Sennett street for its whole length.

The Shenango Pottery, owner of all of the said property, has filed a petition asking the vacating of the properties and the closing of the streets to allow the land occupied to be further developed for industrial purposes.

Council referred the ordinance to the committee as a whole and it is expected that it will be passed at the next meeting of the council. At the present time there are four homes on the land, it is reported.

Familiar Signs Often Ignored

Back in Caesar's time a writer of wit and wisdom named Publilius Syrus realized that "familiarity breeds contempt."

He didn't have traffic accidents in mind when he wrote it down, but truth of his words holds true today in the attitude of motorists toward signs and signals.

The National Safety Council points out that familiarity with traffic signs, signals and regulations in any territory frequently traveled apparently dulls a driver's alertness and makes him a potential accident victim.

Most Mishaps Near Home That partly accounts for the fact that nearly three-fourths of fatal traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home, according to the council.

To impress drivers with the meaning of all signs and signals, the council is sponsoring a "Signs of Life" program in August.

The Council says there are five basic shapes of highway signs. Round signs warn of a railroad approach, while the crossbuck is a danger signal near the tracks. The eight-sided or octagonal sign means stop. Diamond-shaped sign s warn

Means To Control High Blood Pressure Will Be Given Study

BOSTON, July 10—(INS)—Boston sweltered under an 81-degree temperature coupled with a relative humidity of 47 as Governor Paul A. Dever signed legislation for a further study of means to control high blood pressure.

One of fourteen measures signed by the chief executive, the bill calls for:

"Further, extended the existence of the special commission established to investigate and study relative to high blood pressure with a view to providing means for the control thereof."

A Tribute - - To The Farmer!

From the soil comes the sustenance of the world. From the hard-working man who tills the soil comes the fruits of Nature in bountiful array. God loves the Farmer, someone has said, because he is in such close communion with the good earth. He plows it. He plants it. He worries over it. And lo, then his smiling fields are lush and abundant with tassels, tomatoes and all the things we eat. Fat cows and porkers give us milk and meat. And Mrs. Farmer has chickens and turkeys for the market. Without the Farmer there would be no life or living. Let's salute his sun-up to sunset existence . . . and be grateful for his bounty!

Little Big League Preview At Flaherty Field Tonight

All Teams In League To Take Part In Grand Preview Of 1951 Season

New Castle baseball fans will have the opportunity tonight to see all eight of the city's Little Big League teams in action at a grand preview at Flaherty field, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The preview will feature four games of three innings apiece. Schedule finds the Eighth ward meeting the Seventh ward in the first encounter at 7 o'clock. Third ward meeting the Sixth ward at 7:30. Fifth vs. Second at 8 o'clock and Fourth vs. First at 8:30.

All teams in the league will be decked out in their new uniforms, which were purchased by the league through donations from citizens of the community.

There are 18 boys on all teams, with 12 to be in uniform for each game. All boys are between the ages of eight and 13.

These teams have been working out for six weeks now and according to reports from managers and league officials are playing a very fine brand of baseball.

Lighter bats are used in the Little Big League although the ball is of regulation size and weight. Base paths have been shortened to 60 feet with the pitching mound correspondingly closer.

League officials are hoping for a good attendance tonight to usher the Little League into New Castle. Much time and effort has been put into the league by the officials, managers and boys and they have been looking forward to this opportunity to show their wares before the public.

Admission for adults at tonight's preview is 25 cents. All children 12 years old and younger will be admitted free of charge. The games tonight will be officiated by the Lawrence County Umpires Association free of charge.

League play is expected to begin very shortly, it is announced.

The first game tomorrow night will start at 7 o'clock.

In other league action last night the Erie Sailors bumped the Niagara Falls Citizens twice and the Lockport Locks downed the Butler Pirates in a twin-bill. Erie has taken over first place and Lockport is in second place.

It is hoped that Bill Horne the veteran catcher will be ready to don the mask and protector in the Butler games here Wednesday.

He has been on the disabled list for ten days with an injured left arm. Magula back from his homecoming is ready for action, at first base.

The Indians meet Butler in a single game Thursday and will clash with the famous Indianapolis Clowns here Friday night in an exhibition game, starting at 8 o'clock.

Speedway At Pulaski Opens Friday Night

It is announced by owner and promoter, Chester Thompson, that the new Pulaski Speedway will open its doors to racing fans on Friday night, July 13.

This new racing plant has been under construction since last fall. The track itself is a half-mile dirt with semi-banked turns. Extra wide turns and straightaways provide race cars with plenty of room to maneuver.

A large bleacher type grandstand has been completed with a seating capacity of 3,000 seats.

Races at this half-mile speedway will be sanctioned by the "State Line Stock Car Racing Association". Already a field of 50 stock car drivers have signed up for the opening race.

The opening night program at Pulaski Speedway will include eight events of stock car racing. Included in the program will be a Helmet Dash, four heat races, the wild and Woolly Australian pursuit race, a 15-lap semi-feature, and a 25-lap feature event to top off the evening's program. Time trials will start at 7 p.m. and the first race will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

Indianapolis Clowns Play Indians Here Friday Night

Determined to repeat their 1950 performance of winning the eastern division championship honors of the Negro American League, Syd Pollock's Indianapolis Clowns will provide top-notch opposition for the New Castle Indians ball club at Flaherty Field in New Castle Friday, July 13, when the clubs meet in an exhibition game under the arclights, starting at 8 o'clock.

Despite the fact that they are popularly known for their zany exploits afield, in pre-game exhibition and on the side-lines, the Clowns last season proved they had to be reckoned with when the chips are down. Whenever a timely hit was needed to drive in a winning run or a spectacular play was required to halt a rally by the opposition, the funmakers always had the right answer. And their great ball playing is not limited to NAL official games either. They are just as tough to conquer in exhibition contests as majority of opposing clubs can attest.

Plenty Of Comedy
Returning for another season with the Clowns are such stand-out performers as player-manager Buster Haywood, Sam (Piggy) Sands, Henry (Speedy) Merchant, Ray Neil, Leonard Pigg, Jim Cohen, Ben (Honey) Lott, and that sensational Florida outfielder, Lincoln Boyd.

Heading the laugh parade for the Clowns will be that ever-loved Clown Prince of Negro Baseball, King Tut, with his zany companions, the 3 1/2-foot pint-sized Spec Bebob, and newcomer Struttin' Sammy Sneed.

Penn State football teams have won 60 per cent of their games in 64 years of uninterrupted competition.

Word has been received from national headquarters that the U. S. gallery championship has been won by the Frazier-Simplex rifle club of the Pittsburgh and Suburban league with a team score of 1551 of a possible 1600.

Robinson Faces Tough Opponent

Battles Turpin
In London Ring

LONDON, July 10.—(INS)—Sugar Ray Robinson winds up his hectic European tour tonight by risking his world's middleweight boxing title against hard-hitting British and European champion Randy Turpin.

Robinson, who will be making his sixteenth fight in eight weeks, is expected to weigh about 155 to Turpin's 159.

Earl's Court Arena has been sold out to its 18,000 capacity since the day after the bout was announced. An additional ten million Britishers will be at the radio for a broadcast of the bout, which begins at 4 p.m. (EDT).

Turpin Packs Wallop
Turpin, 23-year-old youngest of three boxing brothers, is the most formidable foe Robinson has met on his present junket. In 43 bouts, Turpin has had only two losses and one draw.

A crude boxer by comparison to the clever Robinson, Turpin packs a solid right-hand wallop that can cause Robinson trouble if he allows himself to be tagged.

A bigger problem for Robinson may be the British boxing rules, which provide for loss of the fight in a case of a foul. An inveterate body puncher, Robinson provoked a near riot during a recent bout in Germany when he was accused of "kidney punching."

Canfield Speedway Drivers Feuding
CANFIELD, O., July 10.—When the stock cars roll again at the Canfield Speedway Wednesday night, three drivers will be settling a feud: Mike Little of Johnstown, Barney Barnes of Youngstown and Mike Klapak of Warren. Little is back in the winner's circle with Klapak and Barnes determined to regain their winning streak. In last Saturday night's program, Barnes and Klapak would have finished 2nd and 3rd behind the flying Little if they had not tangled with each other—with each blaming the other for the mishap.

Wednesday night will find these three, along with a stellar field of top stars—the entry list will be in the seventies—fighting for top honors and NASCAR points in the National Points Standing List.

Turner Kayos Charley Fusari
PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(INS)—Quaker City ring fans hailed a new local welterweight hope today in 20-year-old Gil Turner, who kept his undefeated record intact with a rousing knockout of veteran Charley Fusari last night in the 11th stanza of a scheduled 12-rounder at Shibe park.

A screaming mob of 14,627 which clinked $60,262 into promoter Herman Taylor's coffers saw the battered Irvington, N. J., milkman take a 10-count for the first time in his career after a relentless drubbing by Turner.

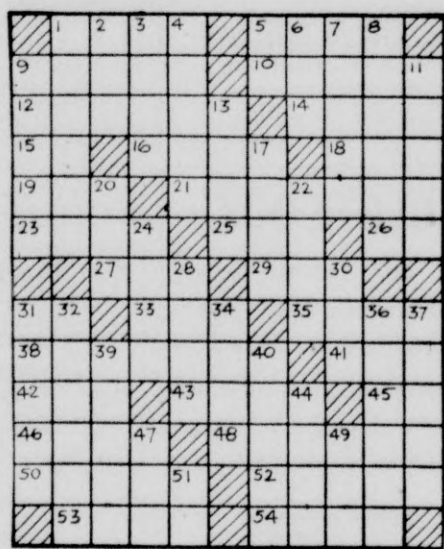

It was Turner's 22nd consecutive victory in the pro ranks, and his 20th via the kayo route.

Raimo Appointed Villanova Coach
PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(INS)—The Villanova Wildcats will be piloted this season by Art Raimo, former backfield coach, named to succeed Jim Leonard, who resigned as mentor three weeks ago.

Raimo, popular in local gridiron circles, was star fullback at Villanova in 1935, 36 and 37.

Dauthuille Wins Over Tony Janiro

MONTREAL, July 10.—(INS)—Laurent Dauthuille of Paris toyed with Tony Janiro of Youngstown, O., in a 10-round match at the Montreal baseball stadium last night to win a unanimous decision. Dauthuille weighed 157½ pounds to Janiro's 151½.

A crowd of 12,000 booted Janiro as he appeared to be just going through the motions. At no time during the fight did he look remotely like the Janiro who battled Rocky Graziano to a draw and whipped Charley Fusari. The officials gave Janiro just one round, called two even.

In 25 years as Penn State wrestling coach, Charlie Speidel's teams have won 102, lost 28 and tied 7.

Rotary Visit Finds Fenati Plant Is Busy

Club Members Find
Croton Plant One
Steadily Growing

New Castle Rotary club members were guests of H. M. Fenati, president of the Fenati Brick Co., for their weekly noon luncheon meeting on Monday, and after partaking of a fine picnic lunch, served buffet style, went through the plant.

Mr. Fenati took over the plant 11 years ago, after the New Castle Mining & Clay Products Co., its predecessor, had become bankrupt. Through his able supervision, he has built the plant up, and is constantly adding to the physical assets of the plant through installation of newer methods of production and additions to the plant equipment.

Has Big Capacity
The plant now has a capacity of a million and a half bricks a month, and has a payroll over $20,000 per month.

In the past five years, Mr. Fenati has spent $125,000 in additions and new equipment, and plants to install a continuous tunnel kiln at a cost of around $225,000 in the near future. This will increase the capacity to 32,000 bricks per day.

Many of those who had never been through a brick plant were deeply interested in the process by which clay and shale are ground up, mixed, colored and burned.

Additions Made
Among the newest additions to the plant is a huge storage platform, which protects the company's products from dirt and the weather. This covers a considerable area. During the past year, one kiln has been rebuilt and modernized, and the structure which houses the grinding, mixing and processing plant has been rebuilt.

In addition to the club members, a number of local business men and bankers were guests of Mr. Fenati at Monday's noon luncheon. District Governor Harold Burns of New Wilmington was also a guest, and invited the club members to attend Rotary night performances at the Little Theater in New Wilmington, which will be observed on Wednesday night during the next two weeks.
